

Solid Waste Management in Kosova

Florije Tahiri<sup>1,*</sup>, Ardian Maçi<sup>2</sup>, Valbona Tahiri<sup>3</sup>, Kushtrim Tahiri<sup>4</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Ministry of Environment and Spatial Planning -Kosova, <sup>2</sup>University of Agriculture in Tirana- Albania, <sup>3</sup>Radio Television Public of Kosova, <sup>4</sup>Elkos Group, Kosova

Received March 06, 2013; Accepted April 17, 2103

Abstract: Waste management accordingly from concept and practices that are used in different countries there are differences, particularly between developed and developing countries. Our country takes part in the context of small developing countries where waste management right is almost at the beginning. In order to have better knowledge about waste management in Kosovo is done a research. The research has included the institutions that are responsible for waste management, including central and local level, service companies and citizens. In the context of survey this research is done in two cities: Mitrovica and Pristina. The survey was conducted with the drafting of legislation, service companies and civil waste collection. The survey has included questions about waste management problems, if they are satisfied with the services offered, where complete waste and what need for a better management of them. The survey results are developed with descriptive statistical method, SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences software). Despite legislation drawn up in conformity with that of the EU, raising the level of awareness, many stock and commitment to change in waste management based on the results of research, it remains much to be done for a better management and right where waste will not be seen as a burden but as an asset, and one day every corner of Kosovo will be really clean and desired to be seen.

Key words: management, waste, recycle, research, questionnaire.

---

*Corresponding: E-Mail: floravk@hotmail.com; Tel +377(0)44215458; Fax: +381(0)3820032245